What others have to say.....

"The authors of this book have brought together research, theory and their accumulated expertise and wisdom from decades of practice-based knowledge translation work to provide a map and compass to help those in roles that facilitate evidence-informed care navigate the way. ...As leaders in the field, these authors have created a roadmap that is authoritative, comprehensive, and useful. What they have managed to achieve is a rare balance of theory and research combined with the practical. This book should be a "go to" for those implementing evidence-informed practice." Jo Rycroft-Malone, RN, BSc(Hons), MSc, PhD, Professor of Health Research Dean, Faculty of Health & Medicine, Lancaster University, UK

"This is exactly what I've been looking for, something practical to use to teach KT and evidence implementation." Jed Duff RN PhD FACORN, Professor and Chair of Nursing, Metro North Hospital & Health Service, Queensland University of Technology, Royal Brisbane & Women's Hospital, Nursing & Midwifery Research Centre Australia

"This book is full of outstanding practical advice, based on solid research and real-world experiences, on how to best overcome barriers in the implementation of evidence-based care. It should be a staple resource for enhancing the quality and safety of healthcare." Bernadette Mazurek Melnyk, PhD, APRN-CNP, FAANP, FNAP, FAAN Vice President for Health Promotion, University Chief Wellness Officer Dean and Professor, College of Nursing The Ohio State University

"Changing behavior using theory and evidence can be a daunting challenge – Drs. Harrison and Graham have risen to this challenge by providing us with a thoughtful and pragmatic "Roadmap" to guide implementation activities from planning to sustainability. These authors integrated the science and practice of implementation into a user-friendly 'Roadmap' to optimise our success as implementers on the clinical frontline." Dr. Sharon E. Straus, HBSc, MSc, MD, FRCP (C) Professor, Dept. of Medicine, University of Toronto Physician-in-Chief, St. Michael's Hospital Director, KT Program, St. Michael's

"It is a book that you can dip in and out of or read sequentially. The result is an invaluable and accessible "how to" of implementation." Sandra Dunn RN PhD KT Specialist, BORN Ontario Adjunct Professor, University of Ottawa, School of Nursing Senior Research Associate, Ottawa Hospital Research Institute

"Drs. Harrison and Graham are global leaders in knowledge translation and implementation science. Their book provides a practical and science-based approach to move evidence from the page to the hands of the knowledge user where it makes a difference." Lisa Hopp PhD RN FAAN Dean and Professor Director, Indiana Center for Evidence Based Nursing Practice Purdue University Northwest, Hammond IN, USA
